4.3.3. Institution has dedicated audio visual centre, mixing equipment, editing facility, media studio, lecture capturing system (LCS) and related hardware and software for e-content development

Media Center:

1. To facilitate faculty members at MIC with video recording of their Lectures.
2. To prepare the video lecture bank for each course in each semester.
3. To make these contents available to students.

Lecture Capturing System (LCS)

Lecture capture facility is available at college level. All e-content can be developed from the venue. The value it adds to courses—more and more students are demanding the flexibility and control that recorded lectures provide over their learning. It works especially well in subject areas where students benefit from repeated viewing of content.
